No. It appears to be the same folders that were sent by email, plus the email response to Jared. Bruce said that he used certain naming conventions to organize the pdfs (date with names and description) but has not prepared an index.

Is there any kind of list of documents or index?

I received a DVD from Bruce Reeves with the document files that were previously sent by email. A separate disk has been sent which contains records related to the 'Asphalto' exemption.

Bruce told me that he will be sending a revised disk with all of the documents by next week. The first disk was compiled quickly and at least one set of documents was accidentally merged together and there may other small errors.
